

MonSoteria Assessment Service

A cybersecurity assessment is an important first step

An assessment that takes a wrong approach can put your entire cybersecurity at risk.

Would you trust an assessment that does not care to determine the key assets being defended?

assessment set us
on the right path!”

Most assessments make no attempt to understand your business and your critical risks and have no idea where your Crown Jewels are.

Our assessments focus on first determining your Crown Jewels and they then assess your strategy defending them. This is why our assessments put you on the road of defending what is most important to you.

Rather than being in the “fortress building - defend everything” mindset that is both costly and ineffective, we put you on the path to making real gains in your cybersecurity posture quickly and cost-effectively.

The value of a score

Our assessment produces a score. This becomes a valuable tool in communicating with everybody on the state of the current cybersecurity posture. It also helps determine the level of investment needed in cybersecurity.

The assessment is a critical first step in your cybersecurity journey. Call us now.
